

Nova Detox Cleansing and Relaxing Foot Patches

About our detox foot pads/patches

Nova Health branded detox patches are one of the most well-known brands available in Europe.

We originally started selling our Nova detox foot patch over 8 years ago, since then many cheap alternatives have flooded the market from China and Japan.

What makes our detox patch different to most of the alternative products you may find on Ebay or Amazon is that they have been assessed by a government recognised cosmetics laboratory and the ingredients comply with cosmetic safety standards, this is a necessary requirement of all detox foot patches sold in the EU.

You should be cautious about purchasing products from companies making unfounded scientifically unproven claims about the miracle benefits of their products.

Our patches have been sold worldwide with thousands of satisfied customers, who after using our Nova detox patches don't go back to other cheap alternatives that make unfounded medical claims about the health benefits of their product, leaving people frustrated that they just did not work.

That's why the Nova detox patches have remained popular for so long, because real people report experiencing real tangible positive results after using them.

How detox foot pads are thought to work

The Chinese have long believed the human health is directly related to the soles of the feet, so we need a basic understanding how the human body is believed to function in relation to ancient Chinese health principals.

"For many centuries eastern medical practices have believed that body toxins accumulate in the feet as they travel downwards through the body and get trapped in the soles of the feet."

Chinese medical principals also state that many health problems and conditions are directly related to the build-up of toxins in the body.

A good example of this this is the relationship between rheumatism and arthritis and the harmful build-up of by of acidic fluid in the joints.

Why are detox foot patches placed on the soles of the feet?

The reason the patches are placed on the soles of the feet is because Japanese and Chinese culture has a long history of reflexology and the relationship between the internal organs of the body and the 62 acupuncture points that can be found on the soles of the feet, that are believed to mirror the internal organs of the body.

It has long been thought in these cultures that stimulation to these reflex points is beneficial to our health and well-being.

Our detox patches are only made from natural ingredients, including organically sourced wood vinegar.

Vinegar has been used for 100's of years because of its curative properties as a natural body detoxifier.

Our patches also contain powdered tourmaline an amazing natural crystal that has been shown to produce negative ions and far infrared heat, both of which may have a positive impact on the human condition.

Four reasons why you should purchase detox foot pads from us

It's all about quality

All our detox patches are manufactured to the highest standards with only best quality ingredients.

Don't be fooled by cheap imitations making unqualified medical claims or purporting to have FDA approval.

Cheap detox patches made by unknown suppliers may contain ingredients that have not been tested for safety and may not comply with regulatory standards.

Wood or bamboo vinegars that are not pure may contain carcinogens and be dangerous to your health.

Good Manufacturing Practice

GMP stands for Good Manufacturing Practice, because the facility in which Nova detox patches are manufactured has GMP certification, this is a safety standard that all reputable manufacturers should comply with.

Without this you do not have any guarantee that the detox sheet you apply to your feet is made to conform to these standards.

Safety standards

Our products have been tested and comply with EU cosmetics laboratory standards, a procedure that is expensive and requires the product and its ingredients to undergo extensive testing to assure that it is compliant with EU safety laws and the ingredients are correctly classified and confirmed.

This certification ensures that the product we sell is of the best quality and manufactured to the highest standards.

Having this certification in place for our detox foot patch enables you to rest assured that it complies with the necessary regulations to be sold in the Europe.

What Are The Results

Many suppliers make unfounded claims about how their detox foot pads work.

We don't think it's necessary to make claims about research and science, we just rely on the fact that we have remained in business for over 8 years and believe this is because the Nova detox foot patch works.

That is why people continue to purchase the Nova detox foot patch brand.

We are not allowed to make medical claims about our product and we don't, if someone has a health condition and find this product offers them some relief then that's the best endorsement we can have.

Take a look at the positive reviews we have received over the years to arrive at you own conclusions, try to avoid the hyperbole or websites that may be sponsored by pharmaceutical companies that appear to have invested considerable time and effort in order to try to discredit detox foot pads and call them a scam, but the truth is people keep buying them because they work.

Our Reputation

We are one of the longest established detox foot patches sellers in the Europe and supply our branded product to many countries in the EU.
